

Portfolio 2026

I tell the story of sport through photography: races, training camps, campaigns, athlete portraits. I love the movement, the adrenaline, the stillness and silence that precede performance, the grit required to reach a goal, whatever it may be. I feed on everything that can spark my creativity: art, music, books, film, design. I cultivate the crossover between people, disciplines and arts. These pages hold a selection of my most recent work, between studio and street, Italy and beyond.

I work on race and event reportage, campaigns and editorials (both on location and in studio), product photography, portraits and video.

PH Apparel

PH Apparel designs and produces cycling technical apparel at zero kilometre, between Veneto and Lombardy. For the autumn/winter collection I followed the group through woods and bends, chasing the same understated elegance that defines every one of their pieces

Ristora

Ristora has been making instant beverages since 1966, a historic name in the sector that in recent years has chosen tennis as a stage for its products. Not competition itself, but the everyday gesture: a sweetener, an energising infusion, something fresh and light within reach between one match and the next, in a young, informal setting.

Zullo

In Castelnuovo del Garda, since 1973, Zullo forges made to measure steel frames, one piece at a time, with the patience of a craft that industry has never managed to correct. I set out to capture that same artisanal care in motion, along the roads of Lake Garda.

PHCC Training Camp

PHCC is PH Apparel's club, and the training camp is its most authentic moment: whole days in the saddle, life off the road, the glances of people sharing the same effort. I documented the atmosphere more than the performance.

Strade Bianche

A full day of reportage at Strade Bianche, amid the dust of Tuscany and a crowd gathering roadside for a fleeting moment of passage.

Verona Night Crit

A criterium raced under lights, in the heart of Verona. For the occasion I shot this reportage for PHCC, staying with the group from before the start to the final lap, between adrenaline and artificial light.
